

Proctor360

[First Name],

We're contacting you because we're seeking people with your reach and influence to join Proctor360 Inc. as a shareholder and attract new investors for our upcoming offering.

Proctor360 is fully committed to complete transparency and compliance, and as SEC regulations require us to disclose all advance messaging about a potential investment offering, this will be the only message we send you about this before the offering is active.

With very little outside investment to date, Proctor360 Inc. has launched game-changing technology for monitoring online exam sessions for commercial and academic use. In just two short years, our company has gone from experimental prototype to production hardware, the launch of our cloud-based software platform, and beginning to generate revenue with adoption by 17 universities, colleges, training programs, and professional certification organizations. We've garnered a great deal of traction as the COVID-19 pandemic has continued to pose challenges for in-person testing around the world, and now we're ready for our next funding round to accelerate that growth.

Here are some key details about our company and industry:

Global E-Learning
Market Value

$1 Trillion
Globally by 2027

Early Investors
Seed Round - 2019

100+

Remote Proctoring
Market Value

$1.34 Billion
Globally by 2027

With no major player in the remote proctoring market currently dominating, Proctor360 is in an excellent position to gain market share, and our upcoming funding round will be an excellent opportunity for accredited and non-accredited investors to invest at an early stage.

We'd like for you, [First Name], to be among the first people to review our offering as soon as it is filed and approved by the SEC. And if you'd like to know more about how you can receive shares in Proctor360 Inc. in exchange for promoting the offering to your audience and connections, please use this link to opt in. We'll contact you as soon as the offering is active.

Sincerely,

Proctor360
