

Andy Jacob:

Hello, everybody. Andy Jacob here with DotCom Magazine. I just wanted to give a special shout out to Peter J. Goodman, who's the CEO of kazoo.ai. And I had a recent opportunity to interview Peter on the DotCom Magazine Entrepreneur Spotlight series, and it was such a great interview. I highly recommend you watch it. But what he's doing with this Kazoo app is really remarkable. I mean, it's really total protection in your pocket. I love it so much. Life is full of unpredictable events, and that doesn't mean you have to come to life unprepared. And Kazoo is really the first SOS app to alert emergency contacts, relay pinpoint locations, livestream video, and provide enhanced, which I love, and you have to watch this on the interview, connectivity to 911.

Andy Jacob:

And it's all on one screen. It all happens in seconds. You really need to watch the interview. Go to the website and check it out. I mean, it's so important what's going on with Kazoo. Peter, congratulations on protection in your pocket. It's really so safety and so simple, and it really is remarkable how simple you have made safety at Kazoo. It's awesome. Congratulations. Love it so much. And we expect great things from Kazoo, Peter. And if you're thinking about investing or thinking about looking at the next hot thing out there, reach out to Peter. Super interesting concept, great platform.
